A HOLY WEEK REFLECTION

Something to Celebrate

The Rev. Brandon Ashcraft

Along with clergy from across the church, I recently attended a webinar to discuss liturgy planning for Holy Week and Easter. The highlight was observing a spirited dialogue between two liturgical scholars I greatly admire. Their comments were both theologically rich and wonderfully practical, but my favorite insight was this: "Holy Week is not time travel."

This comment was offered as a word of caution. It was a warning to avoid curating liturgies as "pious memorials," or occasions for pondering events that happened to Jesus 2,000 years ago.

The speaker was not suggesting that "remembering" has no place in our liturgies. After all, every Sunday in the Eucharist we hear Jesus say, "Do this in remembrance of me." But when there's too much focus on remembering a past event, we create distance between the event and its implications for our lives. Liturgy doesn't only recall God's work in history. It transforms us for participation in God's mission now!

In the Maundy Thursday liturgy, we don't observe the foot-washing simply to remember that Jesus washed his disciples' feet. We wash feet to be drawn into humble service, as the body of Christ now.

On Good Friday, we don't venerate the cross only to remember how Jesus died two millennia ago. We venerate a cross to marvel at our deliverance from the power of sin and death today.

On Easter morning, we don't shout 'He is risen!' as an exercise in historical re-enactment. We proclaim 'He is risen!' because we are members of Christ's risen body. An Easter people who have been raised from death to life.

In this most holy week of the church year, we do more than remember what happened to Jesus. We celebrate what has happened to us.

How good it will be to celebrate these liturgies together, in person, for the first time in three years. Thanks be to God!

Loaves and Fishes

Jeff and Carol Spero

Our enjoyment of sharing a home-cooked meal with good friends, combined with the many references in scripture to “breaking bread together,” made our decision to volunteer with the Loaves and Fishes ministry easy and fitting. So, in the early fall of 2018, we began our involvement with the kind and generous volunteers of the St. Paul’s Loaves and Fishes ministry, dedicated to “filling the hungry with good things.” Feeding the hungry is central to our shared Christian values, and includes a healthy dose of community.

Upon arriving at the kitchen door of the New Life at Calvary Church, we would find ourselves with a busy group of Loaves and Fishes volunteers preparing a delicious dinner to a host of deserving guests. Never did a time exist when we weren’t made to feel welcome and vital in the effort to alleviate hunger and loneliness in our community. What a wonderful way to live out our Baptismal promise to “seek and serve Christ in all people, loving our neighbor as ourselves.”

Monthly meals continued fearlessly throughout the global COVID pandemic under the steadfast leadership of Jennie Kaffen and Julie Dornback. When Washington National Cathedral Canon Missioner Rev. Leonard Hamlin said in his Morning Prayer message of February 10, 2022, “God rewards risk-taking faith,” his words were a perfect description of the fortitude of Loaves and Fishes volunteers!

We are now helping to guide this wonderful ministry and are finding it an enriching and joyful experience. Due to evolving community needs, we embarked upon a new phase in March. We now serve monthly meals to residents of The Haven Home, a temporary overflow shelter for women and children seeking a stable and loving home, guided and protected by God’s ever-present love. Not only are we grateful for the unselfish generosity and kindness of every member of our group, seldom is there a Sunday when a fellow parishioner doesn’t stop us to introduce him or herself and say thank you. We say thank you to the good people of St. Paul’s. You all share in the success of this ministry! Finally, an unparalleled reward for us has been to get to know and work with Rev. Brandon, who heads up

St. Paul’s Outreach ministries and whose kind and generous spirit always keeps us on track. Thank you friend. We couldn’t do it without you!

We seek anyone who has a desire to serve and to have fun at the same time. We always welcome newcomers! We are grateful for any contribution, whether it is cooking, baking, transporting, or serving, occasionally or regularly. Any cooks or bakers unavailable on the serving dates may leave their contributions in the St. Paul’s kitchen refrigerator or freezer, or in the Church office for cookie drop-off.

For further information, please contact us at cjmspero@gmail.com, or Rev. Brandon at bashcraft@stpauls-church.org.

Stephen and Erin Whaite

Stephen and Erin came to Cleveland from Wilmington, Delaware, by way of the University of Pittsburgh. They were in Wilmington, Delaware, where Erin was completing a Pediatric Residency program after living in Pittsburgh from 2010 to 2018. Erin has her Doctor of Medicine degree from the University of Pittsburgh with a Bachelor's degree in Neuroscience. Stephen has his Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Electrical Engineering from the University of Pittsburgh.

Currently, Erin is a Pediatric Care Fellow at University Hospital Medical at Rainbow Babies and Children's Medical Center. Stephen is a Technical Auditor for Reliability

First Corporation, monitoring compliance with the M.E.C. Reliability Standards within the electric power industry. Both have a variety of interests and hobbies, which include music and reading. In her limited time outside of work, Erin enjoys crochet projects. Stephen enjoys running, cycling, and playing tennis. Both have played a musical instrument. Erin played cello, and Stephen grew up playing piano, drums/percussion, and has played guitar in churches and college groups with more contemporary worship styles. Their household includes two cats, a 9-year old tabby named Paige and a 6-year old black cat named Bear.

Both Erin and Stephen have recently been members of congregations of the Presbyterian Church in America, but the move to Cleveland prompted them to explore different church traditions in 2021. Proximity to their home in University Heights, the number of service options, demonstrated focus on safe pandemic protocols, outdoor summer services, and scripture-filled liturgy were all factors in drawing them to St. Paul's. Erin and Stephen have appreciated the welcoming and inclusive public worship and are excited to continue to meet other parishioners. They have appreciated the Young Adult Group events they have been able to attend. Stephen has also enjoyed participating in the men's spirituality group and other periodic discussion groups around scripture or related topics.

Jared and Kyra Nay

Jared and Kyra Nay are current parishioners who are EpiscoPALs to Stephen and Erin Whaite. They report that as COVID continues to improve, they are excited to do more in-person events and meet more with Stephen and Erin. Jared and Kyra felt welcomed to St. Paul's from the beginning, especially by Maureen Kilroy's friendly face week after week. They also had a great confirmation group and miss Artt and John, who moved to Texas. They have participated in Young Adult programs and the Foyer group. Kyra has enjoyed attending the Advent and Lent program over Zoom.

They met and married in Boston in 2012. Jared grew up in Waxahachie, Texas, while Kyra grew up all over: Thousand Oaks, California; Jakarta, Indonesia; Raleigh, North Carolina; Seattle, Washington; Conway, Arkansas; and Akron, Ohio. Jared was raised in the United Methodist Church, and Kyra grew up attending nondenominational Evangelical churches.

They bought a house in University Heights in December 2016 and began attending St. Paul's in 2017. Both are drawn to the inclusive, affirming, and liturgical nature of the Episcopal Church. Kyra attended a few Episcopal services in college and found her new spiritual home in the Episcopal Church after working through the deconstruction of her Evangelical background. Both were confirmed in May 2018. As a testimony to their commitment to St. Paul's, they have recently moved to Akron but are still attending St. Paul's.

Before moving to the Cleveland area, they lived in Syracuse, New York. Kyra received her B.A. from Gordon College (linguistics) and her Master's of Library and Information Science from Syracuse University. She currently is the head of the children's department at the Maple Heights branch of the Cuyahoga County Public Library. She enjoys board games, hiking, and reading. She recently served on the 2022 Sibert Committee. (The Sibert Award is presented annually to the author and illustrator names on the title page of the most distinguished information book for children published in the U.S. in English during the preceding year.)

Jared has a Bachelor of Fine Arts from the University of North Texas in New Media Art. He works as I.T. Manager for Global Mac IT and enjoys video games, programming, repairing electronics, and quality bourbon.

They have a two-year-old golden retriever named Brinkley, named after the Golden in You've Got Mail (one of Kyra's favorite movies).

Jared and Kyra are a wonderful couple to help Stephen and Erin Whaite learn about and enjoy St. Paul's.

Meet the Youth Delegates

Lauren Dockery

It is essential to have the voice of young people involved in big decisions, so St. Paul's assigns two youth delegates to the vestry each year. This is meant to be a learning experience for the high school students, but it's also an excellent service to the church. The youth attend monthly vestry meetings and learn all about the business of the church. Though they don't vote in the decision-making processes, they're invited to share their perspective on any matter. This year's delegates are Avery Bandy-Zalatoris and JR Wagner.

JR Wagner is a junior at Saint Ignatius High School, where he is on the sailing team. He has been a member of Saint Paul's his entire life but has participated in youth programs more consistently over the past four years. He has attended youth pilgrimages, and he serves as an acolyte regularly. He is grateful for the opportunity to represent the youth this year.

Avery Bandy-Zalatoris is a sophomore at Heights High. She has grown up at St. Paul's and participates in both the choir and the C.A.S.T. program. She also enjoys reading, and playing the piccolo and flute. She is grateful for the opportunity to be a youth vestry delegate this year.

Acolyte Party and Recruiting!

Are you an acolyte? Do you want to be? We want to thank all of you who served in this stressful and chaotic year, and we want to invite more people to join us by throwing a party!

Acolytes carry the cross that leads the procession, representing our commitment to follow Jesus; they carry the torches that represent the light of Christ, and they even bring in the Gospel Book, which holds the stories of Jesus' life and reminds us how we are called to live in the world.

We will celebrate all the current and future acolytes on Sunday, April 10 from 1:30 to 3 p.m. children and youth in fourth grade and above are invited to join us for games, ice cream, and a training/refresher session. Email Lauren if you plan to attend: ldockery@stpauls-church.org

Murder With Tomato Sauce

Lauren Dockery

Well, they killed it and congratulations are in order for another fantastic C.A.S.T. production! Murder with Tomato Sauce was co-directed by Heights High sophomores Avery Bandy-Zalatoris and Clara Lyford, with costume designs by fellow sophomore, Lucia Mitchell. The cast of 15 included six friends from the community and nine St. Paul's kids, including Linnea Koops, a Shaker High sophomore. Linnea starred as Detective Rathbone, a conniving villain who staged a crime and invited other detectives to solve it over a spaghetti dinner. Mayhem ensued.

At each performance, a full house laughed along as the detectives double-crossed and insulted one another with grandiloquence and sass. Proud parishioners particularly noted the actors' commitment to memorizing such a lengthy script. "Did one of the characters really use the word eschatological?" someone asked after the show. Indeed they did. Three cheers for a job well done to the entire cast!
