

Board of Trustees Greetings and Farewells

The new year brings both greetings and farewells to the Women Writing for (a) Change Board of Trustees. A huge thank you and fond farewell to Lisa M Hess and Toni Lackner for your years of service!

Lisa joined the board in 2015. During the last four years, she was a member the Fund Development Committee, then moved to convene the Conscious Feminine Leadership and Connection Circle. Lisa will remain a member of that committee and also be a non-voting affiliate liaison to the board. Lisa owns the Dayton and Columbus affiliate, Women Writing for (a) Change Central Ohio.

Toni joined the board in 2017 and served a two-year term. She was involved with fundraising, as a member of the Wine Event Committee. In 2018, she chaired the event, A Taste of Wine & Art...with Words. We are most grateful to Lisa and Toni for their dedicated work on behalf of WWf(a)C. Thank you!

A big welcome to incoming board trustees Jane Pugliano and Carol Walkner! Jane is a familiar face on the board, having previously served from 2012 through 2016. She was a member of the PR/Marketing Committee and was key in the development of the 2013 website. Additionally, she served on the ad hoc Conscious Feminine Connection Committee. Jane and husband Randy Weeks own and run their own business, Netcrafters.

Carol has been a part of the WWf(a)C community since first living in Cincinnati from 2005-2008, and again upon her return in 2015. She is a 2006 graduate of the Feminist Leadership Academy (now Conscious Feminine Leadership Academy). Carol is a writer, an energy healer and facilitates Vision Board workshops. Previously she worked in the promotional advertising industry and has forty years of experience as a copy writer. Her non-profit board experience includes Specialty Advertising Association of Greater New York (1993-2000), The Center for Conscious Caregiving, Brick, NJ. (2014-present) and locally, Brave Choices (2014 – present.)

Officers for the 2019 Board of Trustees are Pam Temple, President; Jane Pugliano, Vice-president; Mary Jo Sage, Treasurer, and Heather Snyder will serve as Secretary. Returning Trustees are Elizabeth K. Mannion, Past President; Alyssa Brandt, Laurel Chambers, Wendy Farmer Nienaber, and Lisa Prantl.

Thank you all for your leadership in support of the mission of Women Writing for (a) Change!
