

Laughter Galore

Laughter barely paused during An Evening of Female Comics & MORE! Thanks to the generosity of Teri Foltz and her crew of comics and actors, the July 24th fundraiser at GoBananas Comedy Club provided $2,550 to support writing circles, scholarships and outreach at WWf(a)C. Emcee Teri Foltz warmed up the audience and set the comic tone for the evening. Sandy Lingo's play, Women Who Lunch, was first up with the hilarity of three friends searching in vain to find a common time to get together before they turned another year older!

Comics Drue Johnston, Lisa Rocklin, Eva Lewandowski, and Mary Pierce Brosmer turned up the laughter again and again. With varying degrees of new-comic shyness and confidence, they brought their acts home to roars of laughter and applause. Randy Weeks told a sweet story of boyhood and rounded out the first half of the show with song.

Intermission ended with a surprise celebration honoring Founder Mary Pierce Brosmer's 70th birthday. The audience sang and cheered as she was crowned and presented with flowers. Closing out the evening to high energy music, Darby Lyons, Eva Lewandowski and Charlie Lobosco, and Suz Fleming entertained with lip-synching battles for a fun and dramatic close.

A huge thank you to those in the show and all who attended to make the evening such fun support for WWf(a)C!
