

For over 25 years, WWf(a)C has provided a safe, non-competitive environment for individuals to develop their writing skills, cultivate their creativity, and strengthen their voices. Our writers, whether first-timers or the more experienced, find community, connection, and meaningful conversation within our circles. We encourage writing as a process of self-discovery and self-expression—a celebration of the individual voice. Our classes provide a unique setting in which honoring each other's words and learning to give and receive constructive feedback enrich participants' lives.

Core Classes

In our core classes, facilitators offer writing prompts and resources, and encourage participants to choose and develop their own subject matter. Classes allow for personal writing time, sharing in large and small groups, guidance in giving and receiving useful, positive feedback, and opportunities to read aloud to an audience.

Specialty Classes

Our specialty classes offer theme-based opportunities for writers and those wishing to explore other forms of creativity in addition to writing. Specialty Classes incorporate WWf(a)C circle practices into each session. Some adult classes are co-ed.

Barbara Crooker at WWf(a)C!

FREE Reading Apr 7, 7:30-9pm; Workshop Apr 8, 1-4pm - $50

Join us as we welcome renowned poet Barbara Crooker for two very special events. Friday evening is titled The Place These Words Are Coming From and Barbara will read from More, Gold, and Les Fauves as well as leading a discussion on craft. Saturday Barbara will facilitate a poetry writing workshop, Postcards From The Heart, in which she will discuss the importance of sensory imagery in writing poems. Both events are open to all, ages 16 through adult.

The Many Voices of Writer's Block: Creating Your Inner Writing Circle - $50

Facilitator: Kelly Richey, Apr 22, 1-5pm

Have you ever experienced writer's block, suffered from procrastination, or had your writing muse show up when you're busy only to vanish when you finally clear time to write? In this class, you will make space for the many voices in your head who can block your writing - and reflect on your relationships with them. Through writing, sharing, listening, and discussing, we create an inner writing circle for each of us to return to in our busy lives whenever we are feeling stuck. Open to all 16 through Adult.

- An excellent complement to WWf(a)C Core Classes
- An innovative modality for working with Writer's Block
- Connect with your Muse and learn what it needs to remain present

Poetry of Place: A Writing Workshop - $35

Facilitators: Annette Januzzi Wick and Diane Debevec, Apr 29 & 30, 1-4pm

Imagery Inspired Words. Works of art and imagery can offer provocative inspiration for writers of any genre. In this two-day writing workshop, we will be viewing the current exhibits at Cincinnati Art Museum to inspire fresh writing. There will be ample time to write, and also to share your writing with others. Open to writers of any level, age 16 and up. Held at the Cincinnati Art Museum, Eden Park.

Classes for Young Women

YW programs are open to girls and teens in grades 4-12. Classes and camps use the art of writing and other arts to enhance self-esteem and build skills in creative self-expression. Programs are designed to help strengthen girls' authentic voices, develop their ability to speak out through writing and direct interaction, and deepen their belief in their own creative intelligence.

Claiming Our Own Voices - $149

Facilitators: Pam Temple and Lisa Rocklin

Mar 5-Apr 9, 1:30-4pm

During this six-week session, teens and young women in grades 8-12 will employ the art of writing to honor and further strengthen their own voices. Through engaging writing prompts, provided readings, spoken word, brave conversation, collage art, and song, we will transform the ripples of our voices into waves.

Girls Spring Session (Grades 4-7) - $50 per pair/class;

$135 per pair for all three classes

Facilitators: Sally Schneider and Janie Baer

March 19, April 23, May 21, 1-4pm

Theme: Mothers & Daughters: Celebrating the Ordinary and Extraordinary

Class begins in one large circle and then mothers and daughters will gather in small groups: mothers finding support with other mothers, girls learning from each other. After small group time, we will move to an art activity centered around the theme. These classes are about mothers and daughters creating their lives together. Open to Girls (Grades 4-7) and their mothers (or grandmother, aunt, Big Sis or other adult women in the girl's lives). Sign up for one, two or all three classes!

WWf(a)C Book Group – Free
