

Gratitude for Your Gifts

It takes a community! Each and every one of you who supports this community makes Women Writing for (a) Change possible. Your generosity brings scholarships to so many who could not otherwise attend writing circles. It supports outreach to urban teens and to young women experiencing or at risk of homelessness, through in-school writing circles. Your generosity reaches women who have experienced domestic violence, youth in after school programs and so very much more.

Each of you is a critical partner in fostering creative self-expression through the art of writing. Your gifts provide 37% of the funding needed to offer this myriad of opportunities. With immense gratitude, we recognize all who made gifts to Women Writing for (a) Change during 2018, and all who are honored or remembered with these gifts. Your enthusiastic generosity fosters the special uniqueness and vitality that is Women Writing for (a) Change. Thank you.
