

Wine, Words & You Nets $7,200

Gratitude to all who created and attended Wine, Words & You in its new pandemic-friendly virtual format! Approximately 75 people participated, with nearly 60 households signed in to the event.

"The energy of a loving, safe, fun, tender container lifted me up significantly." Numerous positive comments affirmed attendee appreciation for the readers, the wine information sessions and the social breakout rooms that combined to make a fun and interesting evening. The event raffle and silent auction were also open during the event, and for the week prior, held on a separate online platform.

Thank you to featured reader, Manuel Iris, WWf(a)C guest readers Anjali Nelson, JJ Garnett, Lael Ingram, Karen Novak, and guest wine guide Richard Goering. Your contributions added so much meaning to the evening.

Net proceeds of $7,200 are $400 higher than those for the 2019 event. The total income of $10,465 was slightly higher than last year, as well.

Much appreciation to Executive Director Lisa Rocklin, host for the evening, and to the event planning committee: Carol Walkner and Krista Boyle, co-chairs, plus committee members Ellen Austin-Li, Dee Garretson and Mary Wood-Constable.

To all attendees, bidders, sponsors, patrons, donors, planning committee, and staff--we are so grateful.
