Design Begins for City of Inverness Lakefront Depot Pavilion and Train Station

The firm has begun design work for the $1.8 million lakefront Depot Pavilion and Train Station in Inverness, Fla., two of several capital investment projects that will interconnect and dramatically transform the city in the next three to five years. “We are excited to apply our experience designing downtown places that define a community, such as Winter Garden and Clermont, to help Inverness create destinations for their energetic and progressive city,” said C.T. Hsu.
