

WHO WE ARE

MHIRJ is the largest MRO provider for the CRJ Series fleet in North America.

We have the largest operating base of regional aircraft in the world, with over 1,300 aircraft flying offering a wide range of Aftermarket and Support Services capable of servicing all CRJ Series models through our Bridgeport, West Virginia and Tuscon, Arizona facilities.

MHIRJ Service Centers have been performing maintenance events for our North American and international Customers for over 25 years supporting Customers across the globe and around the clock via an extensive network of parts distribution, regional offices and Service Centers. Mitsubishi Regional Jets are instrumental in maintaining connections within the U.S. airline networks as well as corporate operators of the CRJ Series. Our Service Centers are committed to keeping those aircraft flying by providing our Customers with unparalleled service and the best regional aircraft solutions available.

Building on our strengths, we will continue enhancing our value proposition, ensuring the long-term success of our Customers and the regional jet industry.
