Reading from the Scriptures

Matthew 5:1-16

Scouts

When Jesus saw the crowds, he went up the mountain; and after he sat down, his disciples came to him. Then he began to speak, and taught them, saying:

"Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

"Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted.

"Blessed are the meek, for they will inherit the earth.

"Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be filled.

"Blessed are the merciful, for they will receive mercy.

"Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God.
"Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called children of God.
"Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
"Blessed are you when people revile you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on my account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in heaven, for in the same way they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

"You are the salt of the earth; but if salt has lost its taste, how can its saltiness be restored? It is no longer good for anything, but is thrown out and trampled under foot.

"You are the light of the world. A city built on a hill cannot be hid. No one after lighting a lamp puts it under the bushel basket, but on the lampstand, and it gives light to all in the house. In the same way, let your light shine before others, so that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father in heaven.

This is the Word of God, for us, the People of God. Thanks be to God.

Message	Shiny, Briny People	Dave Rochford

Communion (8:30)

* Closing Hymn Shine, Jesus, Shine FWS 2173

Refrain:

Shine, Jesus, shine
Fill this land with the Father's glory
Blaze, Spirit, blaze
Set our hearts on fire
Flow, river, flow
Flood the nations with grace and mercy
Send forth your word
Lord, and let there be light

Lord, the light of your love is shining
In the midst of the darkness, shining
Jesus, Light of the world, shine upon us
Set us free by the truth you now bring us
Shine on me, shine on me [Refrain]

Lord, we come to your awesome presence
From the shadows into your radiance
By the blood we may enter your brightness
Search us, try us, consume all our darkness
Shine on us, shine on us [Refrain]

As we gaze on your kingly brightness
So our faces display your likeness
Ever changing from glory to glory
Mirrored here may our lives tell your story
Shine on us, shine on us [Refrain]

* Benediction

* Postlude Litany of Joy (Fedak) Jerry Rich

(At the conclusion of our service, you are welcome to depart or to remain seated to enjoy the Postlude.)

* Please stand as you are able.

Grow — Pray — Study

Our weekly devotional is available at <https://bit.ly/TrinityGPS>

Monday, February 9 — Genesis 12:1–9

God's call to Abram begins not with comfort, but with movement. Abram is asked to leave what is familiar and step into a future shaped by promise rather than certainty. The call is deeply personal, yet its purpose is outward-facing: "in you all the families of the earth shall be blessed."

From the beginning, God's covenant is never private alone, but oriented toward the life of the world.

This passage reminds us that being chosen by God is not about privilege, but about purpose. God's people are shaped so that blessing may flow through them. Faith becomes visible not through withdrawal, but through trust expressed in lived obedience.

- Where might God be calling you to trust beyond what feels familiar or secure?
- How could your faith become a blessing beyond yourself this week?
- Prayer: Calling God, lead me beyond what I know. Shape my obedience so that others may glimpse your blessing through my life. Amen.

Tuesday, February 10 — Isaiah 42:1–9

Isaiah speaks of God's servant as one who brings justice quietly, faithfully, and without spectacle. This servant does not crush the weak or demand attention, yet God declares that this work will not fail. Light is given not for self-display, but to open blind eyes and set captives free. The passage challenges common assumptions about influence and visibility. God's light does not dominate; it reveals. God's justice does not overwhelm; it restores. To participate in this calling is to live with steady faithfulness, trusting that God's purposes are accomplished through patient witness.

- Where are you tempted to equate impact with visibility or force?
- How might God be calling you to reflect light through quiet faithfulness?
- Prayer: God of justice and mercy, shape my life as a witness to your restoring light. Teach me to trust your ways even when they feel hidden. Amen.

Wednesday, February 11 — Psalm 67

Psalm 67 is a prayer that connects blessing with mission. God's grace is sought not as an end in itself, but so that God's way may be known among all peoples. Praise flows outward, and joy is linked to God's just governance of the earth.

This psalm reminds us that worship and witness belong together. When God's presence shapes a community, the result is not isolation but invitation. God's blessing is meant to be seen, shared, and recognized as life-giving for the whole world.

- How do you understand the relationship between God's blessing and God's purpose?
- In what ways might your life point others toward God's ways rather than yourself?
- Prayer: Generous God, let your blessing rest upon me so that your way may be known. Shape my life as an invitation to your justice and joy. Amen.

Thursday, February 12 — Micah 6:1–8

Micah reframes faithfulness away from excess or display and toward a life shaped by justice, kindness, and humility. God's desire is not ritual performance detached from daily life, but a way of being that reflects God's character in the world.

This passage grounds public witness in ordinary faithfulness. To "walk humbly with God" is not withdrawal from the world, but a steady commitment to live differently within it. Such a life quietly resists decay and bears witness to God's reign.

- Which part of Micah's call feels most challenging for you right now?
- How might humility shape your public witness in everyday relationships?
- Prayer: Faithful God, teach me to walk with you in justice, kindness, and humility. Let my life reflect your Reign in small, faithful ways. Amen.

Friday, February 13 — Philippians 2:1–11

Paul describes a community shaped by the self-giving mind of Christ. Christ's humility is not weakness, but faithful obedience that reveals the heart of God. Exaltation follows not ambition, but surrender to God's purposes.

This text, which may have been an early Christian hymn, calls believers to embody a distinctive way of life together. Light shines when a community chooses service over status and faithfulness over self-assertion. The visible witness of the Church flows from shared humility rooted in God's saving work.

- Where do you notice tension between humility and self-protection in your life?
- How might Christ's self-giving example shape the way you live with others today?
- Prayer: Self-giving God, form in me the mind of Christ. Teach me to live in ways that reflect your humility and love. Amen.

Saturday, February 14 — Colossians 1:9–20

Colossians proclaims Christ as the one through whom all things hold together. Faith is not separated from daily life, but expressed in endurance, gratitude, and growth in wisdom. God's reconciling work is cosmic in scope and concrete in expression.

This passage invites us to see our lives as part of God's larger purpose. To live "worthy of God" is to participate in a reconciling work that touches relationships, communities, and the world God loves. Even ordinary faithfulness takes its place within God's mission of renewal.

- How does seeing Christ at the center of all things reshape your daily priorities?
- Where might God be inviting you to live more intentionally as part of God's reconciling work?
- Prayer: Reconciling God, root my life in Christ. Help me live with gratitude and faithfulness as part of your renewing work in the world. Amen.

If you are interested in sharing the Scripture lesson, Tom Long will have a sign up sheet at the 8:30 a.m. service and Emily Summers will have one at the 10:30 a.m. service today; we will introduce them for those who may not know them as yet. Lenten Bible Study:

Walking the Bible

Join us for a journey through the Book of Moses, as we explore the stories of Joseph, Moses and the Exodus, as well as take a close-up look at the places where these events unfolded. Using Bruce Feiler's Walking the Bible video series, supplemented with mementos from Pastor Dave's travels, we'll reflect on how these ancient stories shape our own walk with God along the footsteps that lead to the Cross.

Walking the Bible

Sessions meet weekly on Tuesdays at 10:30 a.m. (Church Library & Zoom) and Wednesdays at 7 p.m. (Zoom). We'll begin on February 24 & 25, and continue through March 31 & April 1 (no foolin'!). Whether you've traveled to the Middle East or hope to someday, come enjoy this visual and spiritual "walk through the Holy Land." Bring your Bible and your walking shoes!
