

Are you looking for something to stimulate your mind?

Feed your mind at Lifelong Learning, an Independent Collaborative (LLAIC), an eight year-old volunteer organization offering low-cost classes and enrichment programs to seniors interested in growing both intellectually and socially. LLAIC traditionally meets in Wayland; but, due to Covid-19, all classes and programs are currently on Zoom. This has allowed us to offer our programming to both local and out-of-town folks who are looking for learning, stimulation, and connections. We are offering over 25 courses as well as a variety of interest groups.

What do we offer?

Classes are taught by our knowledgeable volunteer members. Subjects range from opera to mathematics and everything in between, including literature, history, art, and political science.

To help members socialize and meet with people who share their interests, LLAIC offers several affinity groups, from French and Spanish conversation through investment management to books and movies. A monthly Happy Hour offers a chance to converse with fellow members on Zoom.

LLAIC offers technical assistance to those who are new to Zoom.

Are there programs in the summer?

Our Fall membership begins during the summer and you can attend our 8 week SummerSession program on consecutive Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday mornings. Drop in each week for thoughtful New Yorker short story discussions, lively current events, and a potpourri of stimulating individual presentations. You may also join our regular interest group and club activities.

How can I sign up?

You can sign up any time for fall semester membership ($45) or annual membership ($80). All members can register for fall courses on or after July 19. Courses range from five weeks ($50) to ten weeks ($100). These programs start on September 21. Information about courses and clear instructions on how to register can be found at www.llaic.org.

Where can I learn more? LLAIC Fall 2021 Information Sessions!

You can learn more about the extraordinary courses being offered for this Fall 2021 Semester, at the virtual Information Session. We hope you will join us via Zoom to meet our terrific course leaders and hear directly from them about their courses.
