Greetings Colleagues,

ARCA is an organization of rehabilitation counseling practitioners, researchers, educators, and students who are concerned with improving the lives of people with disabilities. Rehabilitation Counselors are counselors with specialized training and expertise in providing counseling and other services to persons with disabilities. One of ARCA’s primary goals is to increase public awareness of rehabilitation counseling and to extend its influence by encouraging members to become involved in the association’s outreach and educational efforts. In keeping in line with the basic premises of ARCA, I am so excited to report on some highlights of what has transpired during the 2022-2023 year and to summarize some new developments and transitions that are about to begin.

Rehabilitation Counseling Bulletin (RCB) has moved to electronic access for all ARCA membership. Effective January 2023, all ARCA members have full access to RCB journals at no additional cost. The hard copies will no longer be mailed out to the membership unless you specifically requested to continue to receive a hard copy. Prior to this transition to electronic access-only, a survey was sent out to membership to determine how many still wanted hard copies of the RCB journal. The email was sent three times. As a result, 41 current members will still receive hard copies in the journal in addition to online access for a small additional fee.

ARCA Continuing Education Provider (CEU) for CRCC, CVE and NBCC. During this year, Board members worked to complete the NBCC CEU provider audit and submit payment for renewal fee. ARCA will be able to provide NBCC CEUs for the next three years. Additionally, ARCA’s new CEU coordinator has credentials that will allow for ARCA to provide CRC and CVE CEUs from CRCC.

Collaboration Initiatives. ARCA has been actively involved in two collaborative projects during the 2022-23 year. First, ARCA is hosting a joint awards reception with ACA Southern Region Division at the ACA Conference. Southern Region is the largest division in ACA and this is an outstanding opportunity to network with other counseling specialty professionals and create more opportunities to increase future collaborative efforts and rise ARCA’s presence within ACA. Secondly, we are co-hosting a Service Project with the University of Puerto Rico. The project will be a practitioner training at the University of Puerto Rico that will cover the following topics: Independent living, Multicultural and Disability Issues, Women and Disabilities and Supervision. The proposed dates are May 26-May 27, 2023 in Puerto Rico! A “Save the Date” announcement has been communicated to the organization boards.

The mission of the American Rehabilitation Counseling Association (ARCA) is to enhance the development of people with disabilities throughout their lifespan and to promote best practices in the rehabilitation counseling profession. ARCA’s goal is to provide leadership that will encourage excellence in rehabilitation counseling practice, research, consultation, and professional development. ARCA is equally interested in eliminating attitudinal, political, and physical barriers so that more opportunities are available in education, employment, and community activities to people with disabilities. This is accomplished through public education, systems advocacy, and legislative action.
Rehabilitation Counseling Profession Unification Efforts. Your ARCA President and President-Elect joined other organization leaders to an invitation only summit entitled Building a Sustainable Future Fusing Power and People on November 3 and November 4 at CRCC’s office in Schaumburg, Illinois to focus on and set action toward a unified future. From this meeting a Unification Taskforce with a goal dedicated to moving toward a unified umbrella association by identifying the strengths and unique assets of the current organizations to ensure the umbrella organization retains the unique strengths while expanding capacity. These unification efforts within the profession are currently ongoing but the outlook for future change and stronger cohesion with the Rehabilitation Counseling Profession is unprecedented.

ARCA Activities @ ACA Conference 2023. The annual ACA Conference offers an opportunity for rehabilitation professionals to be a part of a variety of stimulating activities for personal and professional development. The Conference also offers our specialization of rehabilitation counseling (RC), a multi-dimensional platform, to contribute to the disability awareness and promote professional skills of students and colleagues to other counseling specializations through interaction and collaboration. An excellent example of this in practice was the launching of ARCA’s Accessibility Guidelines for the ACA Conference. Under the leadership of ARCA’s Governing Council Representative, Dr. Michael Hartley, an ARCA Accessibility Taskforce was developed and ACA Conference Accessibility Guidelines were developed to help facilitate all accommodations that will be needed for any ACA guest with disabilities or a chronic illness. In addition to this monumental development, this year our Student Representative Council has worked to organize over seven student research presentations by encouraging and supporting student involvement through awards competition. Check out ARCA’s exciting activities and events at the ACA 2023 Conference in Toronto, Canada herein.

Dear Rehabilitation Counseling Community,

With the dissolving of the National Council on Rehabilitation Education (NCRE), we are writing to express our commitment to the entire rehabilitation counseling community. ARCA and its parent organization, the American Counseling Association (ACA), are strong advocates for rehabilitation counseling as a specialization of the counseling profession. In addition to member benefits such as webinars and liability insurance, ARCA and ACA are strong advocates for:

- Disability-Related Counseling Competencies (DRCC) – Aspirational guidelines to assist all counselors in better understanding and recognizing disability as a part of personal identity and cultural diversity and in affirmation of their professional commitment to social justice.

- Interstate Counseling Compact - Contract among states that will allow professional counselors who are licensed and residing in a Compact member state the privilege to practice in other Compact member states.

- Medicare Reimbursement - Closing the gap in federal law that prevented licensed professional counselors from being recognized as Medicare providers.

- Conference Accessibility Guidelines – A working draft of organizational and developmental strategies to confront ableism and demonstrate conference accessibility for persons with disabilities.

ARCA is only as strong as its membership, and we look forward to continuing to evolve and grow. Click HERE for information about ARCA only membership or joint membership in ARCA and ACA.

Sincerely,

Valerie E. Dixon

Hello,

Below I have provide exciting highlights for this year:

New ACA Executive Director —
Shawn E. Boynes, the new Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the American Counseling Association had his official first day on July 20, 2022.

Accessibility Task Force —
The Task Force met once a month since July 2022. Team leaders are: Olivia Fadul, Toni Saia, Lynn Pierce, and myself, Mike Hartley. In November, the Task Force met with Shawn Boynes, ACA CEO, President Frazier, ACA President, and Beth Burchhill, ACA Conference Planner. On March 20, 2023, the Task Force submitted recommendations to make the New Orleans Conference more accessible with the goal of using the guidelines to make the ACA 2024 Conference more accessible.

Interstate Compact —
For the past four years, ACA has been working with the National Center for Interstate Compacts to create and operationalize a compact for counselors — and now the Counseling Compact is moving toward becoming operational. Seventeen states have now passed the Compact legislation and have joined the Commission, which will likely start granting privileges to practice in other Compact states by the end of 2023. To learn more, visit: https://counselingcompact.org/

Medicare Reimbursement Now Law —
For over a decade, the American Counseling Association and its partner organizations have advocated for the successful passage of the Mental Health Access Improvement Act (S. 828/H.R. 432). Although this Bill has previously passed the U.S. House of Representatives and the U.S. Senate, it has never passed both at the same time. Today (March 20, 2023) we can say this monumental legislation has passed in both chambers and is on its way to President Biden to be signed into law. The Mental Health Access Improvement Act will close the gap in federal law which prevents licensed professional counselors from being recognized as Medicare providers. The legislation is expected to give Medicare beneficiaries immediate access to more than 225,000 additional licensed mental health professionals and to help close the widening treatment gap. ARCA Members,

- ARCA has worked hard to continue to maintain providing excellent continuing education and to make sure that each member gets the most out of their membership. To that regard, CEUs have continually been secured through CRCC for ARCA sponsored events such as webinars, symposiums, and the RCB Journal.

- ARCA recently added the CVE designation and will be providing CVE continuing education for each of these events also.

- It had been a few years since ARCA provided NBCC continuing education. In working with President Dixon, the required audit was completed and ARCA is now in good standing to provide NBCC credits for ARCA sponsored events.
