

What Does it Mean to be a Spiritual Leader During Times of Crisis?

The encounters we have...
Challenge us
Confuse us
Change us
...All while we lead others

Let's face it. It's been a tough year. You may be questioning what it means to be a religious and spiritual leader during times of stress and crisis. You may feel like you are being asked to walk on water, lead through a wilderness and do the impossible.

Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) Educators from Advocate Aurora Health invite you to an opportunity to reflect on our times and what it means to be a leader. Sessions will allow you to reflect on your practice as a faith leader, get ideas and input, try something new and continue learning, feeling and moving into these issues thoughtfully and safely.

This program will use the CPE model of action, reflection, and adjustment, but previous CPE experience is not required.

Six Monthly Sessions

4th Tuesday of the Month, from 1:00-3:00 p.m.

May 25, June 22, July 27, August 24, September 28, October 26

(Dates and times may be negotiated by the group once the program begins)

Register by scanning
the code or clicking here.

The group is being kept small to ensure the quality of the experience. Please respond promptly to ensure your spot.

Questions? Contact Lori Kaufmann, ACPE Educator with Advocate Aurora Health, at Laura.Kaufmann@aah.org.