Subject: Staff Announcement

I have some bittersweet news to pass along today. After leading our newsroom for the past two years, Craig Hume has decided it's time for his next adventure.

Craig came to KAAL in March of 2019 when the team was in a transition period. He has done an amazing job evolving the newsroom. He has helped every single person here grow and become a better journalist.
Craig has a great eye for talent, and has brought some great people here. His leadership will be missed.

The good news is that Craig will be staying here as we look for a replacement. Once we do find someone, he will help with the transition.
