It is with great pleasure and excitement to announce that Hayley Watts is officially our Assistant News Director.

For the past two or so years Hayley has consistently stepped up and helped lead the news team.

This is a promotion from her Managing Editor position.

For those of you who don't know, she started here almost eight years ago as an MMJ.

From there she learned how to do weather and covered our weekends for a while.

Lucky for us she decided to focus on news and became our weekend anchor.

Then she stepped up to help us when we had an opening for a 5pm anchor.

But, not only did she anchor the 5pm, she produced it too!

She quickly grew into our best producer and grew into a leadership role.
And she didn't stop there.
She produces, anchors, reports, guides our budding star reporters and producers and keeps me in line.

Please help me in congratulating our new Assistant News Director, Hayley Watts!!

Thank you for all you do Hayley.
