Subject: NEWS DIRECTOR

As we continue to develop the most distinctive and important content for the News3 audience, I am pleased to announce that Jeff Rosetti will be joining us as news director. Jeff brings a passion for content, an understanding of how users are receiving content these days, and a track record of management success along his career

Jeff most recently spent nearly 12 years as the news director of WTHR in Indianapolis. When it was owned by the Dispatched Broadcast Group, WTHR and the sister station WBNS in Columbus, OH were viewed among the best local news operations in the country. Jeff has also been a senior producer at CNN as well as an executive producer at WUSA and WNCN among his other management jobs.

Jeff has two children. He will join us starting August 21.

Please welcome Jeff when you see him in the building.

I want to thank Shiree Woody and others who have helped us through the summer.

We will hold a staff meeting on August 22 for more of an introduction and setting the stage for News3 to continue delivering the best product in Las Vegas to consumers across all platforms.

All my best,

Larry
