Career update:

No doubt it has been a tough year and a half for all of us. For me, some concerning health issues led to a prolonged absence from Q13. As we all know, the news never stops, even though sometimes we need to in order to get well. As a result, I've mutually parted ways with Fox Television Stations and KCPQ-TV Q13 FOX in order to continue my recovery.

I appreciate everyone who reached out and offered their kind words and support during this time. I hope to have some news about my future plans soon.
