

Folks,

Our FOX54 News Director Andrea Clenney has let me know that she will retire at year's end and move on to the next chapter of life. Andrea shared that news with her team today, but we want to make sure everyone is on the same page. Andrea's last day will be December 20.

Andrea's work with you here at FOX54 caps a decades-long broadcast news career that spans the country, a variety of stations, and many leadership roles. A University of Central Florida grad, Andrea began working in production at WFTV in Orlando. Later she produced in Tampa and Austin. Management roles in Augusta, Syracuse, Wilmington & Greenville NC, Denver, Gainesville, Columbus GA followed. And finally, here in Huntsville in 2017. Navigating all those communities, companies and comrades is no small accomplishment. She leaves on a high note for our team, having refreshed our editorial process, communication, and coverage approach. I want to thank Andrea for the commitment and effort she brought to our small shop, making product and team bigger and better in the process.

As you may be aware, Andrea presently is managing some significant health issues and will be out of the office on leave prior to her retirement. We'll keep you informed on her recovery and plans. While Andrea is away, JJ will be the go-to person in newsroom. I am nearby and available. We will post this opening for News Director soon and begin that search process.

Thank you,

Larry
