These kinds of notes usually begin with something like “It is with mixed feelings that I announce… “ And in this case that couldn’t be more accurate.

Elaine Emerson has decided to go home to Boise, Idaho. She has accepted the Assistant News Directors position at KTVB TV, the station she watched growing up.

Elaine joined us six years ago as a digital content producer. She grew from there into her current position as Director of Content. It’s a key role, guiding our day to day news gathering, both on air and online. And she has done an outstanding job.

We did our best to convince her to stick around FOX5 a bit longer, but the pull of home is often just too strong. And it’s a well-deserved promotion to a #2 position for her.

Please join me in congratulating Elaine and her family on their new adventure, as we express our thanks for a job well done here at FOX5.
