MARQUEE BROADCASTING NAMES GENE STEINBERG CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

December 8, 2021

Marquee Broadcasting has named Gene Steinberg Chief Operating Officer for Marquee Broadcasting and its related companies.

“Gene’s extensive background in both major and small market television adds great strength to our team at Marquee Broadcasting,” said Patricia Lane, CEO of Marquee. “Gene will take over the role from Linda Gray, who will retire at the end of the year with our many thanks.”

“As the broadcasting landscape continues to change I am excited to join a family-owned broadcast group who believes that local television matters” said Gene Steinberg.

Steinberg’s background included television stations in Miami, Phoenix, Minneapolis, Columbia, Mo., and Palm Springs, Ca. Steinberg also worked for Warner Bros. Domestic Television Distribution.

Marquee owns and operates television stations in several markets, including Atlanta and multiple stations in Georgia, Bowling Green, KY, Salisbury, MD. Marquee has affiliation agreements with ABC, CBS, NBC, CW, MeTV and MyNetworkTV.