

Eyewitness News WCHS/DCHS welcomes News Director Wade Parsons to West Virginia's capital city. Wade comes to us from the Sinclair properties KSNV/KVCW in Las Vegas as Asst News Director.

His first day will be at the Station will Monday, August 23, 2021. Here are some words from Wade below. Congrats and welcome, Wade!

Wade Parsons:

I'm incredibly excited to be joining the team at WCHS! It's reputation for impactful journalism is known throughout the region, and all around Sinclair Broadcasting. I look forward to taking the news department to new heights.

I've had a passion for journalism from a young age, and have been in TV News since graduating from the University of Arkansas in 2005. I cut my teeth as a producer in Arkansas, Iowa, South Carolina and Florida (usually on the overnight shift) before moving into management in 2013.

I joined Sinclair in 2015, as an Executive Producer for WJAR in Providence. In 2019, I moved out west to become the Assistant News Director at KSNV.

Working in Las Vegas has been incredibly rewarding. There have been multiple high profile events, serious investigative journalism, and we've all been dealing with the pandemic in perhaps the most deeply impacted market in the entire nation. I have learned so much in my short time here, and I'm excited to apply this experience in my new role at WCHS.

In my (somewhat limited) free-time, I referee ice hockey, shoot clay pigeons, travel, am active in my church and watch a decent amount of sports. I grew up on a farm in Arkansas, so I'm very excited to get back to an area with a lot of outdoor activities, and with all four seasons!
