Subject: New FOX31 Morning Show Executive Producer

Ann Isaac will join the KDVR/KWGN team as the new FOX31 Morning Show Executive Producer on August 9th. Ann comes to us most recently from KCTV (Meredith, soon to be Gray TV) in Kansas City where she has helped lead the team to some really nice growth over the last few months. Before that she freelanced a bit at KTLA, and has experience producing in Chicago, New York and Miami. Ann has great ideas about how to build on our growth and success here, with a continued focus on hard news, urgency, impact producing, and forward-thinking writing and producing. What I think speaks to that success here is that while we have a great blueprint of how we want to produce morning news – our entire morning team (news and production) continues to evolve and find new ways to get more creative, and create more content, and that, in turn, pushes us to new heights. I look forward to what Ann will do at the helm of the FOX31 Morning News with your support.

A note of gratitude to Jamie Burlison who will have done about two and a half months of double duty by the time Ann starts. He's done great work managing both teams especially during All-Star and big story coverage.

Welcome to the team Ann!
