The Real Life Test

A FILM BY PETER HERMES

The Real Life Test is a documentary following Paula Sophia Schonauer, a transgender woman living in Oklahoma City. The film spans nearly two decades of her life from transition to gender confirmation surgery, patrolling the streets as a police officer to advocating for LGBTQ rights in Oklahoma, to her eventual run for public office.

Paula will facilitate a discussion following the viewing of the film.

Master Presenter

Paula Schonauer, LMSW u/s

Paula is a graduate from the University of Oklahoma's Master of Social Work program (2017). She works with the Central Oklahoma Community Mental Health Center PACT Team as a therapist and case manager. Paula also teaches English Composition at Oklahoma State University in Oklahoma City. She is a published author, an advocate, a Spoken Word poet, and a parent of two grown children. She and her wife have been together for 16 years.
