

Co-ed Leadership Development

Based on our four pillars of leadership, Quattro builds on the tactical strengths that emerging leaders possess and drives them toward becoming impactful leaders. The program focuses on:

- ✓ Giving & Receiving Feedback
- ✓ Coaching
- ✓ Leading in a rapidly changing environment
- ✓ Leading millennials and “minding the generational gap”
- ✓ Emotional Intelligence
- ✓ Leveraging strengths and understanding stress
- ✓ Presentation skills and communication strategies
- ✓ Personal brand and the importance of networking
- ✓ Leadership stamina

Four pillars of leadership

Relationships	Reputation	Results	Resilience
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ Building teams ✓ Coaching ✓ Feedback ✓ Delegation 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ Authenticity ✓ Corporate courage ✓ Executive Presence 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ Execution ✓ Accountability ✓ Generation (minding the generation gap) 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ Emotional IQ ✓ Leveraging strengths ✓ Leading through change

Quattro is a unique co-ed leadership program that is geared to professional men and women who are strong high performers at the mid-level in an organization. The program will be led by a highly qualified, diverse faculty with deep expertise and corporate backgrounds. The opportunity to learn alongside and connect with other high potential leaders from different companies is a significant benefit.

For more information or to register, please contact nicole@thegkcgroup.com

2019 Programs

Spring Philadelphia, Start 3/26

Summer Denver, Start 8/6

Fall Philadelphia, Start 9/24

- ✓ Programs include 5 session dates.
- ✓ In between cohort learning, an on-going project and 2 webinars.
- ✓ An Executive Panel will highlight the last session.
- ✓ Includes Birkman and 180 Assessments.
- ✓ An Individual Development Plan will be completed.

Grace Killelea
CEO & Founder of The GKC Group

A former Fortune 50 company SVP, Grace created a leadership development company with a focus on emerging leaders who have an unparalleled opportunity to leverage learning at this point in their careers. Participants in her programs develop tangible business skills and emerge with strategies, skills and confidence to improve in their current role and grow within their organizations.