With over 25 years of financial services experience, I embrace a mountain livelihood that balances personal, business and philanthropic priorities. I seek to develop a professional and social connection with clients who value advice for investment selection and beyond. It is important for me to understand your ambitions in order to craft financial solutions and a strategy tailored to the ideal lifestyle for you and your family. Working with your CPA, your attorney and other professionals, we can design a comprehensive strategy that incorporates short-term and long-term aspirations.

Believing in the value of community and volunteerism, I am active on the board of Habitat for Humanity Vail Valley and the Eagle River Watershed Council; I represent the Town of Eagle on the advisory committee for the Eagle County Housing and Development Authority; I participate on the Eagle County Schools District Accountability advisory committee and coach youth sports. My previous volunteer experience includes serving the United Way of the Eagle River Valley, the Eagle Valley Chamber of Commerce and Junior Achievement.

After earning a degree in business at the University of North Carolina and beginning my career in corporate finance at an investment bank in Virginia, I returned home to Colorado in 1993. My favorite activities include skiing, running, biking, camping and river rafting with my wife and kids.

At Edward Jones, we are focused on you and your family. The firm has thousands of people and advanced technology supporting our office so that we can help you reach your financial goals.
