

DOUGLAS COUNTY COVID-19 RESPONSE TEAM

JOINT INFORMATION CENTER PRESS RELEASE FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE April 16, 2020

DOUGLAS COUNTY COVID-19 RESPONSE TEAM - DAILY LOCAL UPDATE

(Douglas County, Ore.) We have received a lot of questions about hospitalization and what the capacity is for our residents and those around Oregon during the COVID-19 crisis. We hope this information will help with those questions. Of the 23 confirmed COVID-19 cases in Douglas County, five people have required hospitalization at various hospitals, and only two of those patients remain hospitalized, as of today. Mercy Medical Center has created a special COVID-19 unit in a separate building that has 30 patient rooms. The unit also includes six ICU beds, which is in addition to Mercy's 16 regular ICU beds. Due to the relative low number of cases, the wing has yet to be utilized. "It's available and ready to go if we need it," hospital spokeswoman Kathleen Nickel said.

"Mercy is prepared to safely care for all patients in our community," said Mercy's Chief Medical Officer, Jason Gray, MD. "We know that COVID-19 is serious and that our community is worried, but we've taken numerous steps to protect both our staff and our patients. We are screening all patients and staff, have limited visitors to only a very few and are following the CDCs protocols for ensuring safe care. We want to encourage patients that have current medical needs that are unrelated to COVID-19 to not delay care, waiting may only make their health issue worse."

To put the numbers into perspective, of the 4.2 million residents in Oregon, there are 307 suspected or confirmed COVID-19 patients that are currently being hospitalized, as of today. According to the Oregon Health Authority (OHA) only about a third of those have been confirmed. But, with the ambiguity with some of the testing, that number has not been confirmed. They will continue to err on the side of caution, and keep the full 307 hospitalized. Eighty-nine suspected or confirmed COVID-19 patients are in ICUs, and 43 are on ventilators. As far as the availability of beds for COVID-19 patients, OHA confirmed that as of today there are: 818 adult ICU beds in Oregon hospitals, 287 of those ICU beds are currently available and 794 available ventilators.

Local COVID-19 Test Results

As of 12:00 pm, April 16, 2020, there are no new cases of COVID-19 reported in Douglas County. The number of positive cases remains at twenty-three total in the county. * Of the twenty-three, ten have recovered and two are currently hospitalized at different hospitals. There have been zero deaths and 591 negative tests for COVID-19 in the county. Douglas Public Health Network continues their epidemiologic investigations, identifying individuals who may have had close contact with individuals that have tested positive for COVID-19, and advising quarantine. Ten of the individuals who tested positive earlier have now recovered. DPHN defines recovery as an end to all symptoms after a positive test for COVID-19.

The next drive through COVID-19 clinic, led by DPHN is scheduled for Friday April 17th, in Roseburg. At this time, you can only get a COVID-19 test through your healthcare provider. Residents must be identified by their health care provider. Information has been given to providers and clinics about how to get their patients signed up for the drive-through testing clinics. If you want to be tested, you must talk to your health care provider. Tests are currently being processed at the Oregon State Public Health Lab and a growing number of commercial labs, like Quest and LabCorp. There are a few outpatient clinics in Douglas County offering testing at this time. Community health partners are working very hard to make testing available to a wider number of people.

The first drive thru testing site was piloted in the county on March 17, 2020, there have been 306 people tested so far in the drive through clinics. The drive through clinics are led by DPHN, in conjunction with partner agencies including; Douglas County COVID-19 Response Team, Douglas County Board of Commissioners, Douglas County Sheriff's Office, Douglas County Public Works, local volunteers and local health professionals.

Shout Out to the Coastal Clinic Crew

DPHN, Aviva Health, the Douglas County COVID-19 Response Team, Douglas County Commissioners, Douglas County Sheriff's Office and Douglas County Public Works teamed up to host the second COVID-19 drive-through testing clinic in Reedsport last Saturday, April 11. Nine individuals were tested and are among 306 Douglas County residents who have been administered tests at the drive through clinics led by DPHN since March 17. This amazing group of volunteers, County staff and local health professionals are assisting DPHN with testing and other initiatives tied to the region's COVID-19 emergency response.

"It is imperative that we continue to coordinate resources in order to offer testing in multiple areas of our large County," commented Dr. Bob Dannenhoffer. Pictured in the attached photo are Douglas County Public Health Officer Dr. Bob Dannenhoffer (right) and Aviva Health Medical Scribe Tori Prawitz-Wiprud, who were on hand Saturday in Reedsport to administer COVID-19 tests.

Reminder for Home Yard Projects: Call 8-1-1 Before Digging

Douglas County residents sheltering at home may find themselves with enough time to finally tackle that long-planned yard project. But utility officials are reminding people to make sure they call 8-1-1 to locate underground lines before doing any digging. If you are planning any such projects, state law requires that you call 8-1-1 at least two days in advance. Calling 8-1-1 will initiate a request for someone to visit your work site to mark the ground above utility lines. This way, you won't accidentally hit a line while you're digging," Avista said on its website. Common projects that involve digging include installing a mailbox, planting a tree, erecting a fence or installing a sprinkler system. There are nearly 20 million miles of underground utility lines in the U.S. including gas, water, sewer, cable, telephone and other lines.

"If you don't know where they are buried before you dig, you are in danger," Pacific Power officials said. "Even if you are lucky enough not to be harmed, you could be responsible for causing a service outage in your neighborhood – and potentially be responsible for the substantial repair costs." The 8-1-1 service is free. Call Before you Dig information can be found here.

Libraries Closed, But Still Offering Resources

With branches closed due to COVID-19, libraries in Douglas County have been making adjustments to ensure that residents are still reading and learning as they stay home and stay safe. The Roseburg Public Library has implemented weekly drive-up services on Thursdays from 3-6 p.m. so patrons can check out physical materials they've placed on hold. Library staff pull the requested items from the shelves, check them out and prepare them for pickup. During pickup, patrons remain in their cars and follow the instructions posted in the parking lot. To use this option, patrons can log onto their accounts and place holds through the library's catalog using their library card number and password (the default password is the phone number used to register the account). Assistance is available by calling the library at (541) 492-7050 or emailing library@cityofroseburg.org. Returns can be made using the book drop. Due dates have been extended but patrons are encouraged to return books on time. The library's digital platforms remain available 24/7. Thousands of e-books and audiobooks are available for readers of all ages through the apps cloudLibrary and OverDrive. More information on digital options is available on the library's website.

Douglas County's other public libraries are also highlighting online resources and fun events to help keep people connected to books. The Lower Umpqua Library in Reedsport is posting "daily literacy activities" on its Facebook page, such as "write a poem about spring," and "cook something you think your favorite book character would like to eat." The Canyonville Community Library and some other branches have highlighted Dolly Parton's new YouTube channel, "Goodnight with Dolly," where the country star reads children's books. The Oakland City Library and Sutherlin Library are posting video story times. The Riddle City Library is offering various tips and activities.

Daily Tips: Game Night Thursdays

It's hard not being able to see your friends and family in person. But you can still play games together even if you're not in the same room. Mad Libs is a fun one for all ages, and logically easy. Don't have a Mad Libs at home? Make one up! Other easy games to play virtually are Charades, Bingo or Trivia – you can adjust the rules if needed to make it work over video. If you're willing to work a little harder, you can even play games like Monopoly, chess or checkers; in those cases, each household will need their own board and will need to keep track of all moves on each board. Road and Bridge Closure Updates from ODOT

According to ODOT, a short section of Scottsburg West Road at the north end of the Scottsburg Bridge will be closed for about two years starting Monday, April 20. Both the bridge and Oregon 38 (Umpqua Highway) will remain open at all times during construction. The closure will affect the 200-foot spur of Scottsburg West Road where it meets Oregon 38. Motorists traveling on Scottsburg West Road will be directed to drive under the bridge and use Main Street to reach the highway. The new Scottsburg Bridge will be constructed just downriver of the old structure, requiring workers to realign this part of Scottsburg West Road. Prime contractor Hamilton Construction began work on the $39.5 million bridge replacement project in early February. Their first tasks involved removing trees, clearing brush, building access roads, demolishing a condemned house within the work zone, and lowering the roadway under the bridge. Over the summer, contractors will build a work platform that extends into the Umpqua River. They will also build an approach road to the platform and a retaining wall along Scottsburg West Road. Construction on the new bridge will likely begin later this year. All work is scheduled to be completed by summer 2022.

Additionally, U.S. Highway 101 is scheduled to be closed at the Umpqua River Bridge Wednesday night, April 22, from 10:00 pm to 4:00 am. The Umpqua River Bridge is located at milepost 211 along US Highway 101, adjacent to Reedsport City Limits. No detours are available. The six-hour closure will allow contractors to replace one of two damaged crossbeams of the bridge. Another nighttime closure of the bridge is tentatively planned for Monday night, April 27. Emergency service providers will be given priority through the work zone during all closures.

May Primary Election Update: Voter Registration and Party Affiliation Deadline April 28, 2020

Douglas County citizens can expect to see their mail-in ballots for the May Primary in their mailboxes after April 30, 2020.

You can register to vote or change your party selection any time by updating your registration online at oregonvotes.gov/myvote or by filling out a new Oregon Voter Registration Card. However, if you want to receive a ballot for a major party in the May 19, 2020 Primary Election you must register and make changes to your party selection no later than the deadline of April 28, 2020.

According to the Oregon Secretary of State, we will proceed with our May Primary Elections as planned, because Oregon has a long-established vote-by-mail system, which already complies by the guidelines for no gatherings and physical distancing issued by the State for the current COVID-19 pandemic.
