Pro-Life Candidate Questionnaire

Greetings, I am a Pro-life member of the Democratic Party in California. But I usually have to vote for Republicans when they are Pro-Life. We have a web-page at "Democrats-for-Life of America." I believe that every American party should be fundamentally Pro-Life!

The reason I write to you is to encourage you to get your your California voters to send questionnaires like the one below to their candidates. Our Primary Election is June 2. It is provided by the California Pro-Life Council with whom I cooperate because Pro-Life is my highest priority.

To all candidates: Please return this signed questionnaire to the individual who gave it to you. If unable, you may return it to the address at the bottom of the signature page. Dear Candidate, Many misunderstand the actual issues behind the Right to Life debate. It is first important to understand that the Roe v. Wade and Doe v. Bolton decisions of January 22, 1973, authorized abortion in all 50 states—by defining and protecting who would perform these acts. They were to be done only by medical professionals. Until 1973, every state regulated the practice of medicine according to the principles of the Hippocratic Oath, the foundation of medical ethics since antiquity. But Roe and Doe struck down these ethical standards and dismissed the Hippocratic Oath as dated and irrelevant. In doing so, the Court severed medical law from its moral foundation—the duty to 'do no harm.' After Roe, in the United States, medical science could be used to intentionally harm. “I will give no deadly medicine, even if asked. Similarly, I will not give a woman medicine that causes an abortion.” The Hippocratic Oath The Dobbs decision of 2022 did not address the High Court’s profound legal dismissal of ethical standards in medical statutes. The Court merely admitted that under Roe, they had assumed the role of ‘lawmakers’ for the States. They then returned authority over abortion laws to the states. States could do whatever they want. But there was no Supreme Court commitment or comment on the ethics of human killing by medical science. Roe’s ethical implications regarding killing human babies remains untouched. Roe fundamentally altered the practice of medicine in the United States. It made the intentional killing of a human being an accepted medical act—an inversion of the healer’s vocation. Until this moral wound is understood and addressed, the pretense that Roe is 'overturned' remains a dangerous misunderstanding. Please review the following questions carefully. Your answers will help clarify your understanding of these vital issues and your commitment to restoring the principles of true medicine—care and protection for the vulnerable innocent. 500 Capitol Mall, Suite 2350 · PO Box 935 · Sacramento, CA 95812

Candidate Questionnaire 1. Do you believe the medical profession should ever be used to intentionally take the life of a patient, or to use medical procedures to intentionally harm or destroy a vulnerable patient—especially a vulnerable pre-born child? Would you ever authorize, fund, or refer such acts within your jurisdiction? □ Yes □ No Comments: _____

2. Should state law protect both patients and practitioners who uphold the Hippocratic Oath's prohibition against intentionally killing or harming a patient? Would you vote to protect or expand such legal safeguards in your jurisdiction? □ Yes □ No Comments: _____

3. Roe v. Wade and Doe v. Bolton redefined medical practice to include the intentional destruction of human life. Therefore, would you vote to authorize, fund, or refer individuals within your jurisdiction to third parties or entities who sought to do so? (FYI. Planned Parenthood is currently the number one provider of abortions in the US and the number one provider of medicalized gender-transition to minors.) □ Yes □ No Comments: _____
