From Ross Schriftman, Re: Misrepresentation of Jewish values to the court

From Ross.Schriftman[redacted]

To marci@jrmcb.com

CC Cecily Routman<cecily@jewishprolifefoundation.org>

Date Monday, October 6th, 2025 at 9:35 AM

October 6, 2025

To: Marci Bramlet,

Robinson Bramlet LLC

Re: Misrepresentation of Jewish values to the court

Dear Attorney Bramlet,

While every American should have access to legal representation and I must respect the fact that the abortion business here in Casper gets to use your services to represent them before the courts, as a practicing Jew it is disappointing and unfair that you and the other attorneys on your team continually misrepresent the core values of my religion.

Judaism is the first pro-life religion and the core principles of our beliefs are the Ten Commandments. We do not believe in the practice of brutally murdering babies and we never did.

One of the arguments made before the court concerning Judaism is that we believe the baby is not alive until he or she takes its first breath. This argument not only defies biological truth; it also is counter to numerous versus in the Bible about life in the womb. To commit an abortion a live baby is needed. Otherwise, what is being starved, sucked out of his or her mother, or torn apart?

In order to give you a clearer picture of Jewish values, I am linking you to several documents for your review.

https://stljewishlight.org/opinion/choose-life-jewish-law-forbids-abortion-except-to-save-the-mother/https://coalitionforjewishvalues.org/2023/01/2000-rabbis-decry-lawsuit-claiming-abortion-to-be-a-jewish-value/

https://jewishprolifefoundation.org/sign-our-statement

All I ask is that you and your colleagues stop making false statements about my religion in your presentations to the courts as I am not allowed, under the current rules, to set the record straight myself during these proceedings.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Ross Schriftman

Casper, Wyoming

Sent with Proton Mail secure email.