

A Week of Action, A Lifetime Commitment

This week was designated as Presbyterian Week of Action, an intentional effort shaped and structured by our national office to provide a public witness to reinforce our PC(USA) statements and policy around the support of eradicating systemic racism and acknowledging that God loves all Black lives. Joining together as the greater church provides faithful leadership and realistic hope in the area of justice, love, and equality within our denomination and communities. And it's not over yet.

On Saturday, our PC(USA) staff will host a virtual rally to call attention to the racial injustice and social uprising happening in our country. This event will be anchored at the Presbyterian Center in Louisville, KY and will include a march for justice. This will be a connectional event and will feature various speakers, music, poets, etc. All are invited to attend and/or watch virtually on the Week of Action webpage and the PC\(USA\) Facebook page. This event will livestream on the PC(USA) Facebook and on the webpage. The recording of the livestream will be posted on the webpage after the event.

Here are some snapshots of events and resources from the week:

- A 90-minute Town Hall Forum on ongoing anti-racism work
- Diverse voices untied in a Global Day of Solidarity
- "Trouble the Water": a new film series and curriculum

Explore the PC(USA) Week of Action webpage for more information and resources.