

Suzanne Sierra – Bio

Suzanne Sierra became the Executive Director of the St Louis Mosaic Project in March of 2025, succeeding the Founding Director, Betsy Cohen. She previously served as Assistant Director, where she led university partnerships, the Mosaic Ambassador Company program, and launched “STL Para Ti” and the International Student Summer Internship Challenge with top talent working with regional companies. She works with the International Mentor St. Louis Program and the International Spouses/Expat Women’s Group.

Previous roles have included leading her own consulting firm, as well as positions in public relations and account management with Anheuser Busch and FleischmanHillard. She is on the board of the Hispanic Chamber of Commerce and St. Louis County’s 2050 Steering Committee and collaborates closely with the St. Louis Mayor’s Office of New Americans. Suzanne holds a Bachelor of Arts in Journalism from the University of Wisconsin, Madison and is a graduate of FOCUS St. Louis.