The Special Mission Offerings and Social Justice
June 24, 7 - 8 PM

Join Rev. Rachel McDonald, Generosity Officer for Our Church's Wider Mission and Special Mission Offerings at the National Ministries to learn about how the Special Mission Offerings of the UCC help guide us on a path toward justice. Topics will include One Great Hour of Sharing and how we engage ethically in global partnerships, the long-term advocacy relationships supported by Neighbors in Need, and how the offerings together provide a curriculum of generosity throughout the year.

UCC Generosity 101: Orientation for Clergy and Leaders New to the UCC
September 16, 2 – 3 PM

New to the UCC and can't figure out what all the financial acronyms like OCWM and OGHS might mean? Join Rev. Rachel McDonald, Generosity Officer for Our Church's Wider Mission and Special Mission Offerings at the National Ministries, to get an overview of how giving is encouraged in local congregations in the UCC. Clergy who have joined from other traditions and anyone who feels like they may need a refresher on the UCC system are encouraged to attend.

Understanding OCWM with Church Finance Leaders
November 12, 7 – 8 PM

In the church, we know we are called to be generous, but there are leaders who are called to take care of the nuts and bolts to make that happen. Led by Rev. Rachel McDonald, Generosity Officer for Our Church's Wider Mission and Special Mission Offerings at the National Ministries, this workshop will cover how Our Church's Wider Mission (OCWM), including the Special Mission Offerings, functions to fund our various ministries across the UCC. Bring your practical questions and curiosities about how our financial partnerships work. Church treasurers, stewardship chairs, and mission committees are encouraged to attend.

We're also planning an in-person/hybrid event – stay tuned for details!
