

My wife Darlene and I once again ventured out with Lester and Doris Loucks to Synod. They have been our “trailblazers” and surrogate parents during the Cleveland and now the Baltimore Synod. Their friendship and guidance pretty much mirrors that of the PCC delegation. Our delegation time together, besides sitting at the delegate table, was minimal yet we were able to share our thoughts and visions freely. Being among the larger body, representing such a diverse community, always puts a more personal quality to our deliberations. A personal highlight is always the variety of music styles, settings, and intensity and we appreciate being able to share in worship by singing on the Synod Choir.
