

What I love about being part of a woman's club in 25 words or less

Remember those contests of the 1950's? Product sponsors asked you to say what you liked about a product in 25 words or less. If you were the winner, the prize might be a shopping spree, a new appliance or even a mink coat!

Although we don't have a mink coat or even a faux fur coat to give away, we'd like to capture your words during our meeting on February 3rd. The purpose is to reflect and have a bit of fun. We would also like to capture some highlights to include in a brief video to share with prospective new members.

Have a think, complete this sentence and bring it to the meeting: What I love about being part of a woman's club is _____

Here are some starter ideas – serious or funny, just be you!

- What I love about being part of a woman's club is the sisterhood and sense of community that it brings. (20 words)
- What I love about being part of a woman's club are the potlucks - a roomful of guinea pigs for recipes I want to try out! (26 words)
- What I love about being part of a woman's club is the socializing, keeping my brain active, and doing some good in our community. (24 words)
- What I love about being part of a woman's club is having the perfect environment for making lasting friendships. (19 words)
- What I love about being part of a woman's club is getting dressed up, getting out of the house, and just having some girl talk. (25 words)
- What I love about being part of a woman's club is that while I joined for the literary club, I really like all the social stuff. (26 words)