

Lamont M. Yoder, RN, serves as President of Corewell Health East, leading eight hospitals and an extensive care network across Southeast Michigan. His leadership is defined by a commitment to healthcare equity, innovation, and operational excellence—reshaping care delivery to be more integrated, affordable, and patient-centered.

Before joining Corewell Health, Lamont was Division President at Banner Health in Arizona, where he oversaw 13 hospitals, and he has held senior executive and nursing leadership roles at Vanguard Health Systems and OhioHealth. With more than 25 years of experience bridging frontline nursing and executive leadership, he brings a people-first approach that centers clinicians and patients in decision-making.

Lamont is passionate about building collaborative, high-performing teams and advancing health systems that deliver exceptional outcomes while strengthening community trust.
