President and Managing Partner, Vigeo Alliance, LLC

Ed Dwyer, President and Managing Partner of Vigeo Alliance, LLC, is an experienced 32-year banker with a passion for leadership development that drove success in a variety of roles within a top-five national bank. He has been a director of leadership at a national banking school for 20 years as well as a consultant for a national banking trade in Washington, DC and a risk and compliance consultant with an international firm based in DC.

Ed retired as Senior Vice President and Chief Risk Officer for Community Banking and Branch Delivery at U.S. Bank in 2017. During his time as CRO, Ed chaired the Risk Committee at the Consumer Bankers Association in Washington, DC. During his banking career, Ed was a Commercial Banker, Multi-State Region Manager and Onsite CEO of a failed bank acquisition in California. In 2018, Ed was a consultant for the Consumer Bankers Association in Washington, DC and then a Senior Advisor at Treliant LLC also in DC.

While working on a successful career as a banker, Ed was Director of LeaderSim at Pacific Coast Banking School at the University of Washington, Seattle, WA from 1997 through 2017, while serving on the board for eleven years.

Ed co-founded Vigeo Alliance, LLC in early 2019 with Cassi Chandler with the mission of partnering with organizations to grow emerging leaders, retain and develop diverse leaders while building a culture of leadership in an inclusive organization that thrives over time.

Now living in St. Augustine, Florida, Ed is Chair of the South Beaches Council of the St. Johns County Chamber of Commerce. Ed is also on the boards of Make-A-Wish Northeast Florida and St. Augustine Society/St. Francis Housing Homeless Center and on the faculty of the Executive Banking School for the Consumer Bankers Association.
