You will learn how to protect your hotel from legal risks, security risks, and reputational risks. You will also learn how to use BEST's online training program to train all staff at your properties and discover ways to build upon your existing human trafficking training tools.

BEST has been providing trafficking prevention training for hotel staff since 2013. BEST has developed effective training courses and tools with the help of hospitality leaders, hospitality law attorneys, law enforcement officers, prosecuting attorneys, and service providers.
