

Federation staff are back in the office full time. We are working to ensure that all safety precautions are in place, and requisite conditions are met. The office will, however, still be closed to casual visitors. Please continue to call or email one of our staff members if you need to speak to them, or make an appointment to see them. All visitors to the office must adhere to social distancing rules and wear a mask. All deliveries will be taken at the door. Please do not come to the office if you are experiencing any symptoms of illness related to COVID-19. Thank you for your understanding and cooperation in keeping our staff and community safe.

MANAGING THE IMPACT OF CORONAVIRUS ON OUR COMMUNITY

The Jewish Federation of Edmonton mobilization around the coronavirus has been a top priority, with much attention focused on the safety and wellbeing of our community as the key objective. While we are dealing with a dynamic and challenging situation as the coronavirus (COVID-19) continues to spread worldwide. We have created an information hub to provide resources and practical advice to help you stay informed.

Our goal is to facilitate a coordinated approach to maintaining a safe environment at Jewish institutions, ensuring the continued vibrancy of Jewish life in our community during this challenging time.

The Hub will be updated regularly over the coming days and weeks, so please check back often. You are also encouraged to reach out to Tal Toubiana, Federation's Head of Security for more information or questions.
