

STRENGTHEN THE BONDS OF THE GLOBAL JEWISH COMMUNITY

Dear Debby,

The ten days between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur are a time of repentance and renewal, when Jews all over the world atone for the past year's mistakes, forgive others' failings, and share our dreams for the future.

In this communal moment, our thoughts often turn to our most cherished relationships: the family and friends who embody our greatest hopes, as well those loved ones who are no longer with us.

Will you make a gift today in honor of one of those special people?

Relationships are at the heart of JDC's work. From Buenos Aires to Budapest and Minsk to Mumbai, we build trusting partnerships with local communities. Your support empowers those communities to develop strong institutions and care for their most vulnerable while embracing their unique traditions and culture.

Together, we are creating a rich tapestry of Jewish life in 70 countries around the globe. As Nissim Pingle, director of the JDC-supported Evelyn Peters JCC in Mumbai said, "I want our children to have stronger Jewish identities. If we do that, we've done our jobs."

This holiday season, you can strengthen the ties that bind all Jewish people together. Please make a gift before Yom Kippur in honor of a special person in your life.

With gratitude,

Heather Morgan
