

Opportunity for St. Andrew's Alumni Community from Vivint.Solar

Vivint.Solar is offering the St. Andrew's community in Maryland the opportunity to both give back and help the planet by using cheaper cleaner more efficient energy through solar.

Michael McQuaid '92 is working with St. Andrew's and Maryland homeowners to help create more green energy. In accordance with MD Empower Program, companies like his, Vivint Solar, allows homeowners who qualify to save money by utilizing solar energy for their home. Through the Power Purchase Agreement, Vivint Solar will provide the solar panels (if your home qualifies) as well as install, monitor, maintain, warranty and insure your solar system at no cost. Homeowners will just pay for the power their system produces at a cheaper rate. Vivint Solar is one of the largest solar energy companies in the US.

Michael will provide a free solar evaluation for Maryland homeowners and if you to get solar through this program, you will receive $500 after installation which in turn you can donate to St. Andrew's financial aid program. The goal is to support St. Andrew's while you also help the future of our planet environmentally and save money on your utility bill. Win-Win!
