

TARA THROUGH THE EYES OF HER FOSTERS

By Roman C.

Tara is a lovely dog with lots of personality and potential. Her unique character makes her stand out from other dogs. She is passionate about nature, curious about the world, and sensitive to our feelings.

Tara would make a great hiking companion. She loves to be outdoors with us, strolling in a park or hiking the trails. This good girl stays by our side and does not tug on the leash. She loves exploring the different sights, sounds, and smells of nature and sometimes, in the yard, will chase after squirrels or birds.

Tara is a fun and curious dog who loves to ride in the car; letting her ears flap in the wind. As the world zooms by, Tara's eyes gleam with joy. She only pokes her head out enough to enjoy the view and feel the wind on her fur. The car becomes a vehicle of exploration, and Tara savors every second.

This sweet girl is well-mannered but, like any rescue, she also has some challenges to overcome. Tara excels in obedience; listening to our commands and following them without hesitation. She has mastered sit, stay, come, and down and knows how to shake hands and roll over! She is eager to please; striving to earn treats and praise. With continued training, Tara will grow in obedience, making her a well-trained, disciplined dog.

Although she gets fussy when other dogs bark at her, she can be redirected to ignore them with a treat or a toy. She is especially impatient with small, yappy dogs and we feel she would probably prefer to be an only dog.

Tara bonds quickly with women but is unsure about men. Whenever she meets one, she cowers and hides behind us, or barks at him. With patience and kindness, Tara has learned to trust her male foster family members and is comfortable and playful around them.

This smart girl is great at solving simple puzzles, such as finding a hidden treat or opening a closed door. She can even understand some hand gestures and words like "yes", "no", "good", and "bad" spoken in a different language. She loves to learn and will make a great training partner.

It's always great to come home to her greetings full of excitement and affection. Tara is a great alarm barker and warns us when a stranger approaches the house. Her tremendous loyalty makes her a devoted and trustworthy dog, who will make someone a best friend and companion for life.

With each passing day, Tara blossoms and will make a great addition to the right home. She is very funny and playful, click here to watch her silly antics when she gets the zoomies!
