

A Word from SAHRA's President

Dear Esteemed SAHRA Members,

I hope this message finds you well and thriving in your professional endeavors. As we embark on a new year filled with endless possibilities, I am thrilled to share some exciting news and opportunities with you all.

Last month's mixer at Rock and Brew was a blast, we had a great turn out full of wonderful opportunities to network and build relationships. This month, we will be kicking off our PHR/SPHR Study Group, please visit Community Calendar - Sacramento Area Human Resource Association \(sahra.org\) to sign up. In addition, we will have another engaging Emerging Professionals Meetup on March 14. This is a wonderful opportunity for HR professionals – both veteran and new HR practitioners to support each other as we face HR challenges and discuss relevant issues.

I am delighted to announce that this year, we are expanding our horizons and opening up our membership to not only HR professionals but also to business leaders, managers, and other professionals who have a keen interest in the field of HR. This strategic decision will enrich our association with diverse perspectives, experiences, and expertise, fostering a dynamic and vibrant community dedicated to advancing the HR profession in the Sacramento area.

In line with our commitment to growth and collaboration, we are also exploring partnerships with other local associations to create synergies, share resources, and amplify our impact on the HR landscape. By joining forces with like-minded organizations, we can enhance our collective efforts in promoting best practices, fostering professional development, and advocating for the interests of HR professionals in our region. If you are part of an association that may closely be aligned to our professional and goals for the year, please let us know! As we embark on this exciting new adventure, I invite each and every one of you to get involved, contribute your unique talents, and actively participate in shaping the future of our association.

Thank you for your continued support, dedication, and enthusiasm. I am confident that by working together, we can achieve great things and make a lasting impact on the HR profession in the Sacramento area.

Here's to a year filled with growth, collaboration, and endless possibilities!

Warm regards,

Jenny Nguyen-Jennings
