THE LAST SPY

“The Last Spy” is the riveting biography of 102-year-old CIA spymaster Peter Sichel, telling for the first time the epic and unvarnished history of the US foreign intelligence service from the inside. With a good dose of wit and humor to boot, Sichel unpacks the obscured roots of conflicts that plague today’s world and the toll espionage took on his personal life.

THE FLOATERS

The Floaters isn't just about camp antics—it's a story of clashing personalities coming together to save something they love. The film follows a struggling musician (played by Tohn) who takes a job from her overachiever best friend to supervise a group of misfit campers. As the camp gears up for a high-stakes competition against a rival, the characters must overcome their differences to secure its future. The themes of persistence and passion resonate deeply, both in the story and in the actors' own journeys.
