With recent approvals from the Florida Board of Pharmacy and the FDA, Assure Infusions' advanced robotics-driven plant is now operational, ensuring a consistent and secure domestic supply of critical IV fluids such as lactated ringers, normal saline, dextrose, and sterile water. This innovation directly addresses the persistent shortages that have challenged veterinarians nationwide, often caused by supply chain disruptions and the prioritization of human healthcare markets.

“Veterinarians have long faced unpredictable shortages of IV fluids due to global supply chain issues and the dominance of the human healthcare market,” said Mike Eldred, Commercial Executive for VetAssure. “VetAssure’s mission is to deliver a continual supply of high-quality, US-manufactured IV fluids at the lowest possible cost, supporting the well-being of pets and the practices that care for them. After more than 25 years in the veterinary industry, I can confidently say that Assure Infusions’ facility is the most impressive I have seen. The world-class quality and efficiency of our robotic manufacturing process position VetAssure as the premier choice for veterinary IV fluids.”
