

Flavors of Idylwood: A Culinary Stroll Through the Neighborhood

We're ready for your recipes!

Now that we've named the forthcoming Idylwood Centennial cookbook – Flavors of Idylwood: A Culinary Stroll Through the Neighborhood – bring on your recipes! As we celebrate 100 years of life in Idylwood, this cookbook will bring together not only the treasured dishes we share around our tables but also the stories, memories, and traditions that make our neighborhood unique.

Would you like to be a part of this delicious celebration of Idylwood's past, present, and future? Here's how you can be!

Opportunity	Link / QR Code
☐ Submit a recipe...and, if you'd like, include a short anecdote, memory, photo, or historical memory about your culinary delight.	 https://forms.gle/8MuxhRZeXLNRbJmUq
☐ Volunteer to be a proofreader.	 https://forms.gle/XpinFNtbYkZwSPAo7
☐ Submit a story or myth about life in Idylwood.	https://forms.gle/XpinFNtbYkZwSPAo7

Win a prize! Recipes and Stories sent by December 31, 2025 earn raffle entries for a free cookbook. One entry for every submission; enter as many times as you wish.

Thank you for helping make Flavors of Idylwood a celebration of our community's rich food and history. We look forward to reading about your culinary masterpieces!

The Idylwood Cookbook Committee:

*Beth Barrette (Meadowlawn), Karen Giesen (Meadowlawn),
Suzy Harrington (Lindy), Candus Hinderer (Park), Amy Lawson (Merry), Danika Murphy (Rockbridge), Richard Vela (Lindy)*

Please note: All submitted recipes will be gathered and carefully considered by an impartial panel of judges. Not every recipe submitted may appear in the final collection, but every contribution will help flavor this celebration of our 100 years.