

"Conducting business in the early stages of COVID was difficult and required creativity, direction, and superb networking skills. I was reassured that the Barrington Chamber was there to guide me through this uncertainty. Their leadership has been invaluable!"

I had just joined the Chamber a few months before COVID hit, and I was sure glad that I did!"

"Ilumen Solar joined BACC to get more involved with the community, meet fellow business owners, and gain a better understanding and appreciation for the area we live and work in. A core value of our company is to educate the community on the benefits of solar energy. Being closely connected with the Barrington area allows us to accomplish this."

In this digital world it can seem like we are connected to one another, but in reality we may be more disconnected. When you really get to know your neighbors, local businesses, and local government on a personal level, you find a sense of belonging and involvement that is very rewarding. Our Chamber involvement has led to strong partnerships that are mutually beneficial and help us bring positive change to the community and local economy."

Zach Witt, Ilumen Solar
