A Prepared and Resilient Community

- Current Status of the Ignition-Resistant Roof Program

The Ignition-Resistant Roof Program initially moved into Phase II with 45 participating homeowners. As of July 9, 2024, the program has seen 5 projects completed with reimbursements issued, 6 projects have been given notice to proceed, 11 projects have funding agreements prepared (pending updated construction bids), 5 projects have funding agreements actively being prepared, 10 projects lack critical documents from the homeowner and cannot proceed at this time, and 8 projects have voluntarily withdrawn and/or been disqualified for failing to follow program guidelines.

To date, 11 projects (24%) have been completed or given notice to proceed, an additional 16 projects (36%) have a draft funding agreement prepared or are being prepared and need updated construction bids, 10 projects (22%) are lacking documentation for funding agreements, and the remaining 8 projects (18%) are withdrawn/disqualified and no longer in the program. Two disqualified projects are appealing, and staff is working with the County Counsel's Office on those cases.
