

That Holiday Feeling

Contact me ASAP if doing this option so that you can email me that you understand & agree to the terms & conditions for purchasing my book (you'd read them at any ONE of the "BUY NOW" buttons below). You'd also include in that email to me how you plan to obtain your book(s) (i.e. you'd provide me the snail mail address & who to address mail correspondence to, how you'll be paying i.e. U.S. cash, check, money order, or visiting my credit union at a location near you (if applicable) where you can deposit cash to my business account with a teller) (just request this option if interested when you email me & we can discuss how it can be done). You'll have to wait for an email back from me where I'd provide my snail mail address (if applicable). OR if we're scheduled to see each other another time this month or next & you prefer to wait for your book(s) then just let me know. Either way, payment in full needs to be received along with an email stating you understand & agree to the terms & conditions OR a print off the terms & conditions where you hand write on there that you understand & agree to the terms & conditions, sign & print your first & last name to secure your book.
