Student Social Life: The Academy knows that healthy friendships between students are helpful to the health of the Academy as a whole. The Academy encourages relationships between students that are noble and supportive of their overall moral and intellectual growth. However, in distinction to many other schools, the Academy does not view the formal organization of and sponsoring of social events as one of its primary jobs.

Young men and women: Although the Academy does sponsor social events, these events should not be viewed as the promotion of romantic relationships between our students. The Academy believes that young people should be friends. We encourage their socializing together and the development of healthy relationships among them. Romantic relationships, on the other hand, can take up an enormous amount of the consciousness of young people. This absorption can be a direct challenge to focusing their consciousness on learning and thinking. The Academy prohibits activity like holding hands, kissing, and other overt forms of romantic behavior among students while on campus and at all Academy-related events.
