

CHRIST CHRONICLE

"Sharing God's love with all His children, while growing together in Christ."

December

DECEMBER 2025

FROM PASTOR ERIC

When I was in my late 20s I served on the board of a local organization that would often start meetings with the question, "What's keeping you from being present here and now in this meeting?" I always thought the question was a little too touchy-feely and personal, but I could usually come up with something along the lines of the pile of things I have to accomplish. Now that I've grown a bit, I think I didn't like that question for two reasons. First, it was a veiled invitation to be vulnerable, which was scary. And second, it forced me to admit to myself, even for a moment, that maybe I'm not superman and there's no way I could keep up with all the things I have piled on for myself. Regardless of how I answered in that particular setting, the truth was usually that entirely too much kept me from being present most of the time.

The genius of that question, assuming we could get out of our heads, is that everyone had at least something, and most of us had many things, that continued to demand our attention long after or long before we took care of it. Part of it was the nature of where I lived at the time, as Silicon Valley type people tend to have too many irons in the fire. But we all know that this is more of a "people" issue.

As I am writing this, Advent is just around the corner. Advent is the time of year we look ahead to the coming of the King and celebrate his birth. It's a time of preparation and anticipation, and it's also a time when we take on so many other things in preparation for the holidays. And it's difficult to be present for the birth of Jesus when our minds are a million miles away with plans, frustrations, worries, and long lists of things to do. Not that all of these are bad, of course. But how can we be present for the important things if we aren't first aware that we aren't present? So, I ask you – What is keeping you from being present and in the moment as we look ahead to the birth of Jesus? What keeps pulling you away? Sometimes, answers to those questions reveal what is stealing our joy. My hope and prayer for all of us this time of year is that when we sing "Joy to the World," we mean it.

Peace,

Eric Robinson

FROM THE CONGREGATION CHAIR

O Come O Come Emmanuel

Verse 1

O come, O come, Emmanuel,
And ransom captive Israel,
That mourns in lonely exile here,
Until the Son of God appear.

Refrain

Rejoice! Rejoice! Emmanuel
Shall come to thee, O Israel!

O Come O Come Emmanuel is one of my favorite Advent hymns because it points us to the great expectation of the season as we celebrate the coming of Jesus – God with Us!

Matthew 1:23 “The virgin will conceive and give birth to a son, and they will call him Immanuel” (which means “God with us”).

Wow! It is so easy to be caught up in the business of this season that we forget to pause and reflect on the significance of Christmas, that Christ came to earth and dwells among us. What does that mean to you? I am encouraged that Christ walks with us through everything in this life: the highs and lows; the joys and sorrows. We are not alone because we have a Savior who is with us. What a great promise to proclaim this Christmas!

I encourage you to proclaim God’s promise to others as we walk through Advent and celebrate Christmas. We have multiple opportunities to worship God during this season with Advent services on Wednesdays and Christmas Eve and Christmas day services. Please join us as we Worship the King and consider inviting someone else to join you to hear that promise proclaimed.

Merry Christmas!

Notes from the Music Director

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among those with whom He is pleased!" Luke 2:14

December – a month filled with so many extra things! All because of the quiet entrance of a baby, born in a stable! Not so quiet when you think of a sky filled with angels shouting their praises to God! That baby was God's one and only Son, His plan for our salvation! May your December be filled with many of the extra things, as well as some moments of silence, when you meditate on the greatest gift of love ever given!

We will be having Midweek Advent services on Wednesdays, December 3, 10, and 17 at noon and at 7 p.m.

The December 17 Advent service will be led by the students of Christ Lutheran School, both at noon and 7 p.m. Their program is titled "The Christmas Gift". We will unwrap five different gifts that tell of our Savior, Jesus Christ. You will be able to join in singing some familiar Christmas carols, too.

Speaking of singing carols, everyone is invited to come Christmas caroling to some of our shut-ins on Sunday afternoon, December 7. All are welcome! Look out for details.

Sunday, December 7, the choir anthem is "Prepare the Way of the Lord!" – words written by the prophet Isaiah about John the Baptist. On December 14, the choir anthem is "Oh, Blest Is He That Came." This is an original arrangement of a couple verses of "Prepare the Royal Highway." December 21, the bells will play "Advent Hope," combining the tunes for "Savior of the Nations, Come" and "Come, Thou Long-Expected Jesus."

I know the bells are preparing a Christmas anthem, "The Babe, the Son of Mary," which you can guess is based on "What Child Is This." The Choir will be singing special music for Christmas as well. What a blessed season! Take advantage of all the times available to worship this Newborn King!

SNOWPLOW PARENTS

We used to, and still do sometimes, have what's called Helicopter Parents. These are the ones who hover around their child, fixing problems, not allowing them to fail, or fall...or grow. The latest term for this phenomenon is referred to as Lawnmower or Snowplow Parents. These are the ones who go ahead of their children preparing the path, removing all the obstacles, and making sure there will be no problems...or growth. As teachers, we are incredibly frustrated with these types of parents, both understanding that they dearly love their children, but also knowing their children won't learn to fight their own battles or become strong independent problem solvers if they never experience challenges or defeat.

And yet, isn't that just what Jesus did? When he died on the cross, he paid the price for all our sins. The price of that sin has already been paid for us. He cleared the path and is the Way to salvation. And He has plans for us, Jeremiah 29:11 says "I know the plans I have for you declares the Lord, plans to prosper you and not to harm you. Plans to give you hope and a future." When you look at it from that point of view – God is the ultimate Snowplow Parent!

He does, however, allow us free will. We get into plenty of trouble, and continually need to ask Him for forgiveness for the messes we find ourselves in. There is growth and challenges along the way, even though the end is certain. My prayer for you this month is that you will grow in the Lord and continue to become the person He created you to be.

Together in Christ,
Principal—Kim Rasmussen

FROM STEPHEN MINISTRY

Finding Comfort during the Season of Joy

The holiday season is often described as a time of joy, celebration, and togetherness. Yet for many, this time of year can also intensify the ache of grief. Whether the loss is recent or occurred years ago, holidays can stir memories and emotions that feel overwhelming.

Stephen Ministry is here to walk alongside anyone navigating grief during this season. Stephen Ministers are specially trained, confidential Christian caregivers who provide emotional and spiritual support. They listen with compassion, pray with and for their care receivers, and offer consistent presence during a time that may feel unpredictable or painful.

No one should have to face holiday grief alone. A Stephen Minister can be a steady and caring companion—someone who understands that healing takes time, and that feelings of sadness, confusion, or loneliness are valid and important. Reaching out is not a sign of weakness; it is a step toward hope.

If you or someone you know is struggling with loss this holiday season, consider connecting with a Stephen Minister. To learn more about CLCS's Stephen Ministry, please visit christabq.org/care/ or talk with anyone of our ministry members. For a more confidential inquiry, please contact Leslie Helge.

And our school is teaching that Jesus Christ is the Word and Our Savior.

The Board of Missions is an extant ministry that's been resurrected to echo CLCS' efforts in serving God and honor Our Savior, Jesus Christ. From missions 'n ministries to fellowship meals, let us know how we can help your team serve God. Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

One quarter of the fiscal year has passed. We are operating in a budget deficit. We have a net cash flow of -$48,911 versus -$42,114 reported last month. Our expenditures exceed our income. This is the total money expended from our bank and savings accounts, not a performance to budget metric.

In terms of our budget, last month we had a -$45,727 budget to actual income deficit. This month we have a -$54,861 budget to actual income deficit.

Offering is -$4,489 less than budget compared to -$2,984 in my previous report. School income is -$36,039 than budget versus -$28,984 in my last report. A possible increase in preschool enrollment may help reduce the school income deficit.

For clarification, fundraising and scholarships are not included in the school income number. Since school fundraising is an independent line in the budget, school fundraising does not offset a school income deficit. Both school income and school fundraising are necessary to meet budget. School fundraising is sporadic and difficult to model, so this month I did not increase the budgeted number for school fundraising.

We need a money surplus going into the summer to pay staff salaries when there is no traditional school income and church offerings decrease. Again, I recommend we address the current deficit immediately.

Thank you to the boards for staying below budget with their expenses.

Yours in Christ,
David Yocky
Christ Lutheran Treasurer
