Scholar Spotlight

Bryce Burwell William Penn Chapter

Bryce Burwell is a very intelligent and enthusiastic Scholar. A straight “A” student, Bryce has great leadership skills and represents the William Penn Chapter with pride and confidence. Bryce is in the 7th grade at Penn Wood Middle School where, he is proud to say, he has consistently been a Distinguished Honors student each quarter of this school year.

Bryce became a member of YMWIC Foundation in the 5th grade and has been an active Scholar since joining the Program. He is proud of his many accolades and accomplishments which include winning 1st Place in the 2023-2024 Program Year YMWIC Science Expo for his grade cohort.

When asked what he likes most about being a member of YMWIC, Bryce exclaimed, “I enjoy the Summer Programs the most, especially the trip to Saint Vincent College. I gained valuable experience during my visit to Saint Vincent. It actually helped me with my computer programming class last quarter.” Bryce feels the biggest impact of the Foundation has been in his communication skills, saying, “I am now able to speak confidently in front of an audience without being nervous.” Bryce frequently steps up to speak in Project Support and Workshops as a testament to his enhanced oratory skills and confidence.

Bryce’s love for movies inspired his career choice; he would like to pursue a career as a movie director, explaining, “The main reason for my choice is that I enjoy making stories and would love to see them come to life.”

As a continuing Scholar, Bryce’s advice to younger Scholars is, “Ensure that you submit all of your work on time for your projects so you get all your LDUs (Leadership Development Units). It is challenging, but it will benefit you down the road.”

Bryce enjoys speaking to his friends about YMWIC Foundation, telling them about the benefits of the Program and what it can do for them now and in the future. He eagerly shares information about the college scholarships they can earn and the skills they will be taught.

Bryce plays soccer for the Upper Darby Futbol Club (UDFC) Fall League; and in his spare time, he enjoys listening to music and playing basketball with his friends at the park.
