Scholar Spotlight

Aleim Wright-Jackson Furness High School Chapter

This month, we are proud to spotlight Aleim Wright-Jackson, a 10th-grade scholar at Furness High School. Aleim joined YMWIC in 10th grade and has already shown a thoughtful approach to both academics and personal growth.

Aliem is interested in pursuing a future career as an engineer, a field that combines creativity, problem-solving, and hands-on design. While Aliem is still exploring college options, he is focused on finding a school that will be a strong fit for his goals and interests.

In addition to academics, Aliem enjoys playing badminton and spends free time drawing, socializing, watching videos, and playing video games. When asked what advice he would give to younger or new scholars, Aliem emphasized the importance of socializing, staying focused on school, and being respectful advice that reflects strong character and maturity.

We're excited to continue supporting Aliem as he grows within YMWIC and works toward his future goals!
